In one of the most pristine biotopes throughout Austria you will see untouched nature like it had been back then and on the raft you may enjoy regional delicacies like the known lake Weissensee fish. Enjoy your stay in a culinary hike with horses along the shores of lake Weissensee.

Detailed description:

At the arrival you'll get an extensive introduction to this three-day programme and a little welcome present from your host.

On the second day you meet the wildlife ethologist Hans-Peter Sorger at 9.30 am. With him and his colleague zoologist Mag. Manuela Siller you'll have a ride by pleasure raft to the inspection of the habitats of bear, lynx, bearded and griffon vulture. This unique programme promises magic moments. You'll learn more about the animals' sense for weather conditions, trace and scent analysis (cast, scats, dens, plumes and much more) and you'll be able to observe animals – from life in an ant-hill to birds of prey like peregrine falcons, golden eagles and griffon vultures. You'll also learn interesting facts about plants and flowers (medicinal and toxic plants, orchids). After about two hours you'll turn back to the raft at about noon. Martin Müller will spoil you with delicious lake Weissensee fish and good wines.

On the third day a culinary hike with horses awaits you. The tour starts at 9.30 am. This is a tasteful hike along the shores of the lake, where you'll visit original farms offering rest and delicacies. You'll also get an insight into rural life at lake Weissensee, where the farmers work in accordance with nature. On this tasteful hiking adventure Nature Park Ranger Robert Röbl will accompany you. Taste and smell the Nature Park lake Weissensee during this particular nature experience.

On the fourth day you'll get a "tasteful" present remembering the magic moments in the Nature Park lake Weissensee.
